

Medilet Cookie Policy

What is cookie?

Cookie is a small data that are generated from the website and is kept in the user's devices in order to enhance performance and satisfaction of users' experience for visiting the website.

How to control and delete Cookies?

Users can individually set a permission for using the cookies on their computer. Disable, reject or block the cookies will lead to not fully function in our website.

Is there any harmful, if I use cookie?

Normally, cookie is confidentially kept in each personal devices. Thus, the security of the devices is crucial to protect user from hackers.

How Medilet use the cookie?

Currently, we use cookie for keeping user sign in information on the devices.

For more information on how manage cookies on the computer, please visit www.allaboutcookies.org.